Subject: Seeking nomination for constitution of “National Communication Security Working Group-NCSWG”

National Centre for Communication Security (NCCS), a subordinate office under Department of Telecommunications has been established for the purpose of establishing security testing and certification framework within the country. NCCS has been developing security standards for telecom/ICT products.

2.NCCS has constituted “National Communication Security Working Group-NCSWG” to craft standards/specifications in the areas of telecommunication security and submit them to the global bodies such as 3GPP, IEEE etc for adoption. NCSWG will primarily focus on security aspects dealt by SA3 WG of 3GPP. In addition, NCSWG will also work on the security requirements of Cloud, O-RAN, 5G Advanced 6G, DLT, AI/ ML/ DL, IoT, Terminal Equipments and other evolving technologies.

3.In this regard, NCCS invites suitable nominations from the members of academia, industry/startups, R&D organizations, service providers, govt organizations etc. who can serve at NCSWG. The nominations accompanied by following details may kindly be forwarded to adg2sasf.nccs-dot@gov.in or directorhq.nccs-dot@gov.in before 31-05-2024.
